Dear students,

This yearbook is more than a book; it is a reference to the memories that you have made during your four years of high school. These memories will elicit a different set of emotions for each of you. Stories of those times will flood your mind and transport you back to the first day of your freshman year.

The bricks, frequent leaks, unpredictable temperatures in the rooms, spotty internet service, the cavalcade of construction trucks and cell phones lighting the way during a power outage will not be here 20 years from now when you open this book again, but the memories will continue.

A school is a training ground for life. Everything we do here is to prepare you for your place in the world. You have learned to collaborate in classes, work independantly to achieve success, and to grow into adults who will one day shape the future.

I want to take this opportunity to impart a last bit of knowledge. One of the most powerful forces you will face is fear; it is invisible, odorless and unexpected, yet ever-present in our lives. The only one who can stop you from realizing your dreams is you; the power to conquer your fears is within yourself. Dream, persevere, and create the world in which you want to live. We know you can do it. The question is, do you?

We, the staff, administration and alumni of SBRHS, would like to congratulate all of you. We can't wait to see how you will change the world. Thank you for allowing me to be a part of your yearbook.

Best wishes,

Letter From the Class President

It is hard to believe it is our senior year, and although we aren't going to be around to experience the new building, we should take pride in that we are the last class to be graduating from the old building. I hope you will remember all the good things this old building gave us. Consider it a four-year character building experience. It was here at SBRHS that you received the building blocks needed to succeed in your future.

Soon we will all be starting new chapters in our lives, some that will take you out of your hometown, but always remember this chapter of your life, and pick out certain things that made you happy. One day we'll all be able to fondly look back on our high school years, and pick out the moments that brought us laughter and happiness. Thanks to everyone in the class of 2014 for helping make these some of the best years of our lives. Always remember you were a Raider first!

Class President,

Sean Sullivan

Letter From the Editors

We are finally done with high school! It's been a long time coming. As the last class to graduate from he old building, we take with us many memories. During our freshmen year, two different schools came ogether. Our sophomore year, we killed it at Case Rally.

We want to say thank you to all who helped in this yearbook. We also need to thank Mrs. Hoyle and Mrs. Gosson, our Advisors, who sacrificed their time to help bring this yearbook together. It was a lot of hard work, but well worth the time.

We are all used to coming to school, walking through the same hallways, and seeing everyone we have known for years. So, we want this yearbook to mean something special to each of you, when you look back and remember your high school years.

After graduation, our lives will be different. Good luck to everyone, wherever you will be, in all your future endeavors.

Different.

Editors,

Chandler Hayes, Kaitlyn Machado & Rita Simone
